- (2) For the purposes of this Act information is “relevant information” if—
 - (a) in the reasonable belief of the worker, it tends to show one or more relevant wrongdoings, and
 - (b) it came to the attention of the worker in connection with the worker’s employment.
- (3) The following matters are relevant wrongdoings for the purposes of this Act—
 - (a) that an offence has been, is being or is likely to be committed,
 - (b) that a person has failed, is failing or is likely to fail to comply with any legal obligation, other than one arising under the worker’s contract of employment or other contract whereby the worker undertakes to do or perform personally any work or services,

- (5) A matter is not a relevant wrongdoing if it is a matter which it is the function of the worker or the worker’s employer to detect, investigate or prosecute and does not consist of or involve an act or omission on the part of the employer.
- (6) A disclosure of information in respect of which a claim to legal professional privilege could be maintained in legal proceedings is not a protected disclosure if it is made by a person to whom the information was disclosed in the course of obtaining legal advice.

- (8) In proceedings involving an issue as to whether a disclosure is a protected disclosure it shall be presumed, until the contrary is proved, that it is.

Disclosure to employer or other responsible person

6. (1) A disclosure is made in the manner specified in this section if the worker makes it—

 - (b) reasonably believes—
 - (i) that the relevant wrongdoing falls within the description of matters in respect of which the person is prescribed under subsection (2)(b), and
 - (ii) that the information disclosed, and any allegation contained in it, are substantially true.
- (2) The Minister may by order—
- (a) prescribe such persons as, by reason of the nature of their responsibilities or functions, appear appropriate to be recipients of disclosures of relevant wrongdoings falling within the description of matters in respect of which they are prescribed, and
 - (b) prescribe in respect of each prescribed person such description of matters as appears appropriate by reason of the nature of the responsibilities or functions of the person.
- (3) Every order under subsection (2) shall be laid before each House of the Oireachtas as soon as may be after it is made and, if a resolution annulling the order is passed by either such House within the next 21 days on which that House has sat after the order is laid before it, the order shall be annulled accordingly, but without prejudice to the validity of anything previously done under the order.

Disclosure in other cases

 - (d) in all the circumstances of the case, it is reasonable for the worker to make the disclosure.
- (2) The conditions referred to in subsection (1)(c) are—
- (a) that, at the time the worker makes the disclosure, the worker reasonably believes that the worker will be subjected to penalisation by the worker's employer if the worker makes a disclosure in the manner specified in section 6, 7 or 8,
 - (b) that, in a case where no relevant person is prescribed for the purposes of section 7 in relation to the relevant wrongdoing, the worker reasonably believes that it is likely that evidence relating to the relevant wrongdoing will be concealed or destroyed if the worker makes a disclosure in the manner specified in section 6,
 - (c) that the worker has previously made a disclosure of substantially the same information—
 - (i) in the manner specified in section 6, or
 - (ii) in the manner specified in section 7 or 8,
- and
- (d) that the relevant wrongdoing is of an exceptionally serious nature.
- (3) In determining for the purposes of subsection (1)(d) whether it is reasonable for the worker to make the disclosure regard shall be had, in particular, to—
- (a) the identity of the person to whom the disclosure is made,
 - (b) in a case falling within subsection (2)(a), (b) or (c), the seriousness of the relevant wrongdoing,
 - (c) in a case falling within subsection (2)(a), (b) or (c), whether the relevant

 - (e) in a case falling within subsection (2)(c)(i), whether in making the disclosure to the employer the worker complied with any procedure the use of which by the worker was authorised by the employer.
- (4) For the purposes of this section a subsequent disclosure may be regarded as a disclosure of substantially the same information as that disclosed by a previous disclosure as mentioned in subsection (2)(c) even though the subsequent disclosure extends to information about action taken or not taken by any person as a result of the previous disclosure.
- (5) In subsection (1)(b) “personal gain” excludes any reward payable under or by virtue of any enactment.

SCHEDULE 1

Section 11.

INTERIM RELIEF PENDING DETERMINATION OF CLAIM FOR UNFAIR DISMISSAL

Application for interim relief.

1. (1) An employee who claims to have been dismissed by the employee's employer wholly or mainly for having made a protected disclosure may apply to the Circuit Court for interim relief.
- (2) The Circuit Court shall not entertain an application for interim relief unless it is presented to the Court before the end of the period of 21 days immediately following the date of dismissal (whether before, on or after that date) or such longer period as the Court may allow.
- (3) The Court shall determine the application for interim relief as soon as practicable.
- (4) The employee shall give the employer prior written notice of intention to make the application for interim relief.
- (5) The Court shall not exercise any power it has of postponing the hearing of an application for interim relief except where it is satisfied that special circumstances exist which justify it in doing so.

Procedure on hearing of application and making of order.

2. (1) This paragraph applies where, on hearing an employee's application for interim relief, it appears to the Court that it is likely that there are substantial grounds for contending that dismissal results wholly or mainly from the employee having made a protected disclosure.
- (2) The Court shall announce its findings and explain to both parties (if present)—
 - (a) what powers the Court may exercise on the application, and
 - (b) in what circumstances it will exercise them.
- (3) The Court shall ask the employer (if present) whether the employer is willing, pending the determination or settlement of the claim—
 - (a) to reinstate the employee (that is, to treat the employee in all respects as if the employee had not been dismissed), or
 - (b) if not, to re-engage the employee in another position on terms and conditions not less favourable than those which would have been applicable to the employee if the employee had not been dismissed.
- (4) For the purposes of subparagraph (3)(b) "terms and conditions not less favourable than those which would have been applicable to the employee if the employee had not been dismissed" means, as regards seniority, pension rights and other similar rights, that the period before the dismissal should be regarded as continuous with the employee's employment following the dismissal.
- (5) If the employer states a willingness to reinstate the employee, the Court shall make an order to that effect.

- (6) If the employer—
 - (a) states a willingness to re-engage the employee in another position, and
 - (b) specifies the terms and conditions on which the employer is willing to do so, the Court shall ask the employee whether he or she is willing to accept the position on those terms and conditions.

- (7) If the employee is willing to accept the position on those terms and conditions, the Court shall make an order to that effect.
- (8) If the employee is not willing to accept the position on those terms and conditions—
 - (a) where the Court is of the opinion that the refusal is reasonable, the Court shall make an order for the continuation of the employee's contract of employment, and
 - (b) otherwise, the Court shall make no order.
- (9) If on the hearing of an application for interim relief the employer—
 - (a) fails to attend before the Court, or
 - (b) states an unwillingness either to reinstate or to re-engage the employee as mentioned in subparagraph (3), the Court shall make an order for the continuation of the employee's contract of employment.

Order for continuation of contract of employment.

3. (1) An order under paragraph 2 for the continuation of an employee's contract of employment is an order that the contract of employment continue in force—
 - (a) for the purposes of pay or any other benefit derived from the employment, seniority, pension rights and other similar matters, and
 - (b) for the purposes of determining for any purpose the period for which the employee has been continuously employed, from the date of its termination (whether before or after the making of the order) until the determination or settlement of the claim.

- (2) Where the Court makes such an order it shall specify in the order the amount which is to be paid by the employer to the employee by way of pay in respect of each normal pay period, or part of any such period, falling between the date of dismissal and the determination or settlement of the claim.
- (3) Subject to the following provisions, the amount so specified shall be that which the employee could reasonably have been expected to earn during that period, or part, and shall be paid—
 - (a) in the case of a payment for any such period falling wholly or partly after the making of the order, on the normal pay day for that period, and

- (b) in the case of a payment for any past period, within such time as may be specified in the order.
- (4) If an amount is payable in respect only of part of a normal pay period, the amount shall be calculated by reference to the whole period and reduced proportionately.
- (5) Any payment made to an employee by an employer under his or her contract of employment, or by way of damages for breach of that contract, in respect of a normal pay period, or part of any such period, goes towards discharging the employer's liability in respect of that period under subparagraph (2); and, conversely, any payment under that subparagraph in respect of a period goes towards discharging any liability of the employer under, or in respect of breach of, the terms and conditions of employment or contract of employment in respect of that period.
- (6) If an employee, on or after being dismissed, receives a lump sum which, or part of which, is in lieu of wages but is not referable to any normal pay period, the Court shall take the payment into account in determining the amount of pay to be payable in pursuance of any such order.
- (7) For the purposes of this paragraph, the amount which an employee could reasonably have been expected to earn, the employee's normal pay period and the normal pay day for each such period shall be determined as if the employee had not been dismissed.

Application for variation or revocation of order.

- 4. (1) At any time between—
 - (a) the making of an order under paragraph 2, and
 - (b) the determination or settlement of the claim,the employer or the employee may apply to the Court for the revocation or variation of the order on the ground of a relevant change of circumstances since the making of the order.
- (2) Paragraphs 1 and 2 apply in relation to such an application as in relation to an original application for interim relief except that, in the case of an application by the employer, paragraph 1(4) has effect with the substitution of a reference to the employee for the reference to the employer and of a reference to the employer for the reference to the employee.

Consequence of failure to comply with order.

- 5. (1) If, on the application of an employee, the Court is satisfied that the employer has not complied with the terms of an order for the reinstatement or re-engagement of the employee under paragraph 2, the Court shall—
 - (a) make an order for the continuation of the employee's contract of employment, and

- (b) order the employer to pay compensation to the employee.
- (2) Compensation under subparagraph (1)(b) shall be of such amount as the Court considers just and equitable in all the circumstances having regard—
 - (a) to the infringement of the employee’s right to be reinstated or re-engaged in pursuance of the order, and
 - (b) to any loss suffered by the employee in consequence of the non-compliance.
- (3) Paragraph 3 applies to an order under subparagraph (1)(a) as in relation to an order under paragraph 2.
- (4) If on the application of an employee the Court is satisfied that the employer has not complied with the terms of an order under subparagraph (1)(a) for the continuation of the employee’s contract of employment subparagraph (5) or (6) applies.
- (5) Where the non-compliance consists of a failure to pay an amount by way of pay specified in the order, the Court shall determine the amount owed by the employer on the date of the determination.
- (6) In any other case, the Court shall order the employer to pay the employee such compensation as the Court considers just and equitable in all the circumstances having regard to any loss suffered by the employee in consequence of the non-compliance.
- (7) Any sum awarded to the employee on the determination of the claim that he or she has been unfairly dismissed shall be specified separately from any amount determined under subparagraph (5).

SCHEDULE 2

- (4) In determining the amount of compensation that is just and equitable in a case in which the investigation of the relevant wrongdoing concerned was not the sole or main motivation for making the disclosure, the amount that would be just and equitable may be up to 25 per cent less than it would otherwise be.
- (5) The references in clauses (b) and (c) of subparagraph (3) to the employer shall be construed, in a case where ownership of the business of the employer changes after the contravention to which the complaint relates occurred, as references to the person who, by virtue of the change, becomes entitled to such ownership.

- (8) Where a delay by an employee in presenting a complaint under this paragraph is due to any misrepresentation by the employer, subparagraph (6) shall be construed as if the reference to the date of the contravention were a reference to the date on which the misrepresentation came to the employee's notice.

Labour Court shall, without hearing the employer concerned or any evidence (other than in relation to the matters mentioned in clauses (a) and (b)), make a determination to the same effect as the decision.

- (6) The Labour Court shall publish, in a manner it considers appropriate, particulars of any determination made by it under any of clauses (a) to (f) of subparagraph (4) of paragraph 2 (not being a determination as respects a particular appeal under that paragraph) and subparagraph (5).

Enforcement of determinations of Labour Court.
