

Lead topic: Public Service Pay and Industrial Relations	Sub-topic: Medical Consultants	Contact: Don Culliton
----------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------	------------------------------

FAST FACTS

- A large number of medical consultants are taking individual legal actions against the State for what they allege is a breach of their contract (namely, the non-implementation of pay increases due to the financial emergency).

Q&A'S

- As legal proceedings are underway, it would not be appropriate to comment at this time, beyond stating that the Government has signalled its intention to vigorously defend all such claims.